Harley A. Mann, 74, Dies While Visiting Son

Harley A. Mann, 74 years old, a former Mokena resident died last Friday, Aug. 12 in the home of his son Robert of Chicago, where he and his wife had been visiting for a few weeks. He suffered a coronary occlusion and passed away in a few minutes. His wife was in Genesee Depot, Wisc., at the time helping to care for a seriously ill sister.

Born Sept. 5, 1885, on a farm in Elkhart County, Ind., the son of the late Jacob and Cora Mann, he lived there until he finished his early schooling and helped his father with the farming.

He was united in marriage on October 18, 1910 to the former Miss Bernice L. Warren of Chesterton, Ind. They went to housekeeping in that city where he was a conductor on the Michigan, Lake Shore and Southern railroad, now the New York Central. It was during a strike on that railroad in 1920, that he gave up railroading and moved to Chicago.

Mr. Mann operated a confectionary manufacturing business in Chicago and also a confectionary store. In 1940 he sold the business and entered the employ of the Kellogg Switchboard company as an overseer in one of their departments. They moved to Mokena in 1950 when they purchased the former McGovney home at 142 First street. About three years ago they moved to Hot Springs, Ark. due to his ill health.

Besides his wife and son he is survived by three grandsons. He was a member of Paramount Lodge 1015 A.F. & A.M., Chicago, the Mokena Wayfarers and Methodist church.

Mr. Mann was active in civic affairs of Mokena, lending valuable help at the former Mokena Homecomings. When the Community park was being organized he was one of the chief workers and served on several committees as chairman. During the funeral service the flag at the park was displayed at half mast.

Removal was made to the Hirsch Chapel at Tinley Park and Masonic services were conducted by the members of the Paramount Lodge and Wayfarers group Sunday evening.

Funeral services were conducted at the chapel Monday afternoon, Aug. 15, with the Rev. Robert H. King, pastor of the Mokena Methodist church officiating. Cremation followed at Mt. Hope.

Molasses Flood Grain Premises

Molasses in January, as everybody knows is about the slowest moving substance one can find but, employees of the Mokena Grain can testify that it's pretty fast stuff in August.

A storage tank containing 15 tons of grade "A" molasses valued at an estimated $900 was bumped by one of the company's trucks and the spout dislodged. Within seconds the tank was empty and Mokena had a new creek known as "goosey".

Employees of the company spent all day Friday covering the molasses. Coal screenings were used. Until the stuff was covered the flies had a field day and on their calendar August, 1960 will be marked as the greatest.

Officials of the company could not be reached for comment.

Cardosi Wins

Victor Cardosi, Kankakee attorney, a Republican, was elected judge of the circuit court in the 12th judicial circuit in a special election held Tuesday, Aug. 16. Cardosi will serve out the unexpired term of the late Judge C.C. Henry, of Kankakee. The term will expire in 1963.

Cardosi was opposed in the election by John Irving Pearce, Democrat, of Wilmington, a former state's attorney of Will County. The 12th judicial circuit is made up of Will, Kankakee and Iroquois counties.

Cardosi's total vote according to unofficial returns was as compared to votes for Pearce.

The vote according to counties: Will: Cardosi, 7,130; Pearce, 2,547; Kankakee, Cardosi, 8,754; Pearce, 2,207; Iroquois, Cardosi, 2,549; Pearce 625.

L W Asks Raise In Bus, Educational, Tax Rates

The Lincoln-Way high school board has set Sept. 17 as the date for a referendum on two proposals—an increase in the educational fund tax rate and a raise in the transportation tax.

The school expects an enrollment of some 800 when the year opens Sept. 6 and this naturally means more teachers and other expenses which necessitates a greater income.

Under the present rate of 86 cents per $100 of equalized assessed valuation the total amount that could be collected would be $347,963. If the rate is raised 13 cents, from 86 to 99 cents, as requested the amount extendible would be $400,562.

This proposition will appear on one of the ballots to be given to the voters. The other ballot is concerned with the proposed increase of the transportation tax from two cents to five cents per $100 equalized assessed valuation.

It cost Lincoln-Way approximately $33,000 to transport pupils last year and it is estimated the cost will be about the same this year. The district received $13,000 in aid from the state for transportation. The two cent tax rate brought in around $8,000. The proposed five cent rate is expected to bring in approximately $20,000.

In the past the difference between the amount raised by the two-cent tax plus aid from the state and the cost of operating the buses was taken from the educational fund.

Under the proposed five-cent tax, with aid from the state, a spokesman said, the district should come out even on transportation costs.

There will be five polling places: 1.- Frankfort village school, 2.- Mokena village school, 3.- Ann Rutledge school, Lincoln Estates.

4.- Haven school, New Lenox, 5.- Manhattan village school. The polls will open at 12 noon and close at 7 p.m.

Set Tax, Bond Election For Summit Hill School

A special school election is to be held Sept. 3 in the Summit Hill district, No. 161, in Frankfort township.

Each voter will be given two ballots.

One will carry a proposition to increase the educational tax fund rate from 75 cents per $100 of equalized assessed valuation to 96 cents, a raise of 21 cents.

The other proposal will ask approval of a $35,000 bond issue to provide a new school building.

Approval of both propositions is sought by the directors of the district that they may meet an enrollment this fall that is expected to almost triple that of last year.

According to reports given the office of Verne E. Crackel, Will county superintendent of schools, it is expected the enrollment this year will run to between 90 and 100 pupils. Approximately half of this number will be drawn from families moving into Arbury Hills, a new housing development in the building along U. S. 45, south of 191st street. The remainder will come from other portions of the district, outside the development.

Three teachers will be needed to take care of this number of pupils, according to school authorities. The directors have already hired a principal, Charles Rellis, of Chicago Heights. Now two more teachers must be selected. To pay the salaries and meet the other operating expenses the increased enrollment will mean, it was explained, the educational fund tax rate must be raised.

Under the 75-cent rate now in force the amount extended in taxes thru the educational fund is $12,123; the approximate amount extendible under the proposed 96-cent rate is $15,517.

The equalized assessed valuation of the district is now approximately $1,600,000. If 100 homes in Arbury Hills are occupied by April 1, 1961, Supt. Crackel said, and they are assessed at 55% of their market value as is the rule prescribed for Will county, the valuation of the district would be increased by about $800,000 to bring the total up to around $2 1/2-million. The benefits from this, of course, would not be apparent until taxes are paid in 1962.

In the meantime the developers of Arbury Hills are erecting an eight-room school at a cost of approximately $150,000, which is expected to be ready for use when school opens Sept. 6, or the week following at the latest. The building is to be given to Dist. 161 and will be used to house all the district's pupils this year. The school is located about a block off U.S. 45 and south of the first group of homes.

The reason for the bond issue at this time, it was explained, is that the developers feel that inasmuch as two roomfuls of pupils will come from outside the subdivision it would only be fair for the district to put up money for two rooms which could be added to the new building, or the old building or as a building itself when needed.

School authorities who have looked into the matter feel that the Summit Hill district would have a bargain in getting a $150,000 school for $35,000.

Supt. Crackel said the subdividers of Arbury Hills have indicated that when the development is completed they will have built five schools for the Summit Hill district.

The developers have said they will give the school now under construction to the district when it is completed but there is nothing in writing to that effect, it was said. At a meeting of the school directors last Thursday night the District's Attorney, Albert H. Krusemark, was instructed to get a signed instrument from the Arbury Hills developers to guaranteeing title to the school building and site to Dist. 161, when the school is completed.

New Lenox Fire Dept. Moves To Add Men And Equipment

More men and some minor equipment are called for in a program recommended by the Illinois Inspection Bureau for the New Lenox volunteer fire department and Chief Frank Vally, says it will be carried out.

The board of trustees of New Lenox fire department is considering purchase of a new pumper to replace one of those now in service and Chief Vally, with the aid of business men is recruiting more members for the department.

There are sufficient men available nights, it was said, but more are needed for daytime duty.

The engineering division of the Illinois Inspection Bureau recommends that the department send a minimum of five men when a rig answers an alarm and that five more men remain at the station with the remaining equipment as a fill-in crew, ready to respond if there is another alarm.

Failure to have this number of men available and failure to carry out the other recommendations would result, the inspection Bureau warned, in dropping New Lenox into a lower insurance rating classification, from Class 9 to Rate 10.

Under Class 9 the premium on the average, frame home is 26 cents per $100; under #10 it would be 30 cents.

If New Lenox had a water system so there would be street hydrants, it could make Class 8, which is 18 cents a hundred for the average, frame dwelling. Cherry Hill residents have hydrant protection and naturally are much interested in the program outlined for the New Lenox department. Such rates are used by old line companies, it was said, but not by mutuals.

According to a spokesman for the fire protection district the inspection bureau people put most of their emphasis on the manpower situation.

There are some minor equipment needs -- another thousand feet of hose, some paddles and brooms for grass fires, raincoats and the like. The bureau also wants the water supply for each farm located and listed, as well as the amount of water available.

Trustees may ask bids on a pumper if it finds funds are available. The rest of the stuff is satisfactory so as the spokesman looks at it the chief need of the moment is manpower.

Chief Vally said this week that he has been assured of more recruits so feels confident that this part of the bureau's recommendation will be met in the next week or two, as well as the other provisions.

The department now has two pumpers, a tanker for carrying additional water and an emergency truck carrying an inhalator, lights and tools and equipment used in rescue work.

The trustee spokesman said that the New Lenox department has an excellent record and that its loss record is extremely low. He also stated that New Lenox has more equipment than any community in the area. He pointed out that if the Inspection Bureau is now in the process of cracking down on manpower shortages, every department in the area will be effected.

Few villages, he added, have enough volunteers available for fire duty in the daylight, working hours, to supply a crew of 10.

One of the reasons why the village of New Lenox has a lower rate than in the township is its closeness to the fire department.

If firemen can get to a blaze within the first few minutes after an alarm is turned in the blaze is usually quickly extinguished but when a rig has to travel miles into the country the flames gain too much headway and the loss is usually high, it was explained. The proximity of Hickory creek as a source of water also leaves the village of New Lenox in better position, it was said, than areas some distance from the creek.

One of the pumpers has been out of service because of engine trouble but Chief Vally said it would be back in service this week.

Chain Gang Fugitives Rob Hitchhiker Near N. Lenox

Third hitchhiker was bad luck, not a charm, for two fugitives from a Georgia chain gang who came to grief after releasing their third victim near New Lenox Sunday.

The two convicts, Ralph Junior Heath, 27, and John R. Hoynie, Jr., 35, both white were taken into custody by Joliet police and later turned over to the FBI and taken to Chicago. They face charges under the Dyer Act, the federal law pertaining to taking a stolen car across state lines.

Heath was sentenced originally for four to eight years for car theft; Hoynie was serving life for the murder of a negro. He also picked up an additional five years for escaping from a stockade at Augusta, Ga., last June and stealing a car.

The paid fled the Georgia prison Aug. 7 with six other prisoners. These two paired off and at Akron, O., stole a station wagon. Near Lima, O., they picked up a hitchhiking soldier but booted him out when they discovered he was without funds.

They picked up another man, John Lynch, Sr., of East St. Louis, near Schererville, Ind., and dropped him after taking his wallet and suitcase. The wallet contained $8. Near Chicago Heights they picked up the third man, Duane Morgan, 25, of California. They got rid of him at Lincolnwood after robbing him of $6 and his boots. Hoynie was wearing the boots when apprehended.

Morgan was picked up by a truck driver who took the number of the station wagon. They gave this to New Lenox police. Officer Victor Avon radioed a description of the car and men to the sheriff's office which in turn broadcast a general alarm.

Apparently the two convicts, stopped at someone to eat because it was an hour after the alarm went out when they were seen by Joliet Police Officers Joseph Kubinski and Donald Monshau. They curbed the car and took the pair to the station where they were identified by Morgan.

Later the pair was turned over to the FBI.

Trio Injured In Car Crash At New Lenox

Three persons were injured and two cars demolished in a collision at the intersection of Francis and Cedar roads last Thursday night at 8:55 o'clock.

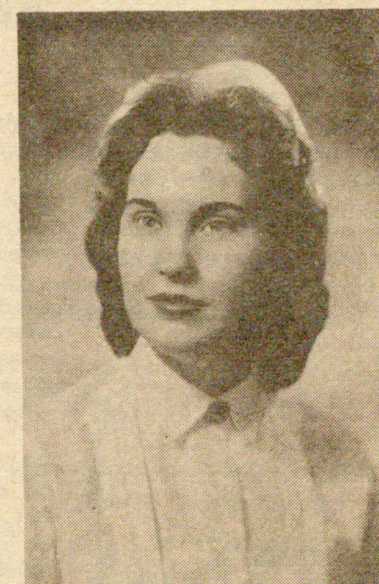

One of the injured is Carl Carlson, 25, of 110 Beverly blvd., a member of the New Lenox volunteer fire department.

The other victims are: Frank P. Sonnenberg, 65, 1310 Dearborn st., Joliet, and his wife, Martha, 67.

All are in Silver Cross hospital. According to the report of the accident by New Lenox Police Chief George Kennedy and Officer Al Miller, Mr. Sonnenberg was traveling west on Francis road and failed to heed the stop sign. His car was struck by Carlson's vehicle which was going north on Cedar road.

Sonnenberg has been charged with failure to obey a stop sign and Carlson with driving too fast for conditions.

The Bakerville ambulance was used in taking the injured to the hospital. Mrs. Sonnenberg's injuries were the most serious, including multiple fractures.

TWIN SISTERS -- Janet (left) and Judith Feil, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Feil, New Lenox, will receive their diplomas as graduate nurses from Silver Cross Hospital School of Nursing, Joliet, at commencement exercises to be held at Pershing school on Friday evening, August 26.

Both are graduates of Lincoln-Way high school where they were active in various groups such as the Future Nurses club and Future Homemakers. Janet received the D.A.R. award in 1957 and was president of the National Honor society.

Burglars Strike Twice In Home Of Mrs. A. Lauffer

Mrs. Arthur Lauffer, Lockport R#1, Homer township had the misfortune of having her home burglarized twice within ten days. Entrance was gained both times thru the basement door.

The first burglary occurred Sunday, July 31 between 4 and 7 p.m. Items stolen at that time included: a mantel clock, transistor radio with leather case, silverware, jewelry and a collection of arrow heads.

It is believed a truck was used in the second burglary which took place Tuesday night, Aug. 9 as tracks were noticed that led to the basement door. The items taken the second time were a set of china, service for 12; all her linens, silverware, utensils and cutlery.

Mrs. Lauffer a widow, said many of the items were keepsakes and are not replaceable.

Rushes 1961- Is Fined $100.

Shouting "Happy New Years" and singing "Auld lang Syne" late in the evening of August 13 cost Robert Bobbie, Chicago $100 and $15 costs. The late New Year's celebrant, according to Judge August Werner, helped himself too freely to the free beer at a picnic and decided to celebrate on North Wolf road in Mokena.

Disturbed residents of the area called officer Joe Helm who made the arrest.

Pigtails Win

A New Lenox girl, Gay Facinelli, 9-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Facinelli, has the champion pigtails of Illinois. At the state fair held in Springfield, Gay received the blue ribbon in the pigtail contest.

Her braids measured 32 1/2 inches long, or five inches longer than the runner-up.

The Facinelli reside at 168 E. Wood street, New Lenox.

HARD DIGGING--It is only a short distance to bank at the site of the New Lenox sewage treatment plant and that, as anyone knows, makes excavating difficult. Talking it over are John Magert, of

Barrington, who was operating this digging machine when the picture was taken and Everett Schefflow, (right) of Elgin, resident engineer on the sanitary sewer project. (Marvin Smith photo)

Church Sponsors Tour Of Historic Galena Homes

Peek into the past on the week-end of Sept. 24 and 25 when Galena turns back the pages of history for old and new friends on the eleventh anniversary of the tour of historic Galena homes.

That last week-end in September has become a tradition, for then Galena opens several of its privately-owned homes to visitors from all over the continent who come to recapture the gracious living and splendor of the Victorian age.

Nowhere, it is claimed, can examples of early midwestern life and architecture be more clearly understood and enjoyed than on this tour of seven beautiful homes.

This project is sponsored by the Guild of the First Presbyterian Church (1828), the oldest church building in continuous use in the Northwest territory. Guides and hostesses garbed in 19th Century gowns will welcome and entertain guests who arrive for this famous annual event.

Other activities of interest include the African Violet Tea and Sweet Shop, and an old-fashioned melodrama sponsored by the South Presbyterian church; and the Main Street Museum.

Transportation is available to Galena by Illinois Central Railroad, Greyhound Bus, Highways 20 and 80. Overnight reservations are available at hotels and motels.

Home-cooked meals will be furnished by the various churches, lodges and service organizations.

For further information and tickets write the Tour of Historic Homes Committee, Galena, Ill.

Antique, Classic Autos To Be Seen At State Fair

Fifteen automobiles, representing antique, classic, special merit and sports classifications, will be exhibited throughout the Illinois state fair in a tent near the main entrance to the grandstand, Secretary of State Charles F. Judging of these cars and all others entered in the Meet will take place Saturday, August 20, followed by a parade of the entire group before the auto race crowd in the grandstand just before the start of the 100 mile race. Winners in the competition will be announced at an award banquet that night.

Frankfort Hopes To Start Street Repairs This Fall

A street program is being prepared for Frankfort by Robert Hamilton, village engineer, and it is the hope of the village board that contracts may be let so work can be started this fall.

The primary job on the agenda is the opening of Kansas street to White. The village bought the property, a house and lot, that formerly blocked the east end of Kansas st., and plans drafted by the engineer would divide work on the project over two years. For this year the street would be cut thru to White, graded and provided with a sub-base and base, two catch basins, some storm tile and along the north side, from Ash to White, will be a curb and sidewalk, and dividers for parkers in the space now occupied by roadway.

It is estimated the work scheduled for this year on Kansas would run to $5,229. Next year the street would be black-topped and sidewalk and curbed along the south side at a cost of about $2,613 which would bring the total cost of the improvement to about $7,842. This money would be taken out of Frankfort's share of the motor fuel tax collected by the state.

The village board would also proceed with repairs on three other streets this fall, Maple street from Oregon south for 700 feet; Locust, from Nebraska to Utah and East Bowen, for a stretch about 800 feet long.

All the jobs discussed would cost an estimated $7,900 this year and there are funds available, if the village is successful in getting Locust designated as an arterial street. In as much as it carries most of the traffic to and from the match factory village trustees are hopeful of success with the state. If the village is unsuccessful then it will still be possible to repair a section of Locust street as a certain per cent of gas tax money can be expended on non-arterial thoroughfares, the engineer said.

Eleven persons living along 95th ave. on the eastern border of Frankfort filed a petition with the board this week asking to be annexed. The petitioners want a street cut thru to give them easier access to the village but primarily they are interested in getting sewer service.

The board told them it might be several years before a street could be built and it might be some time before the water would be available but sewer lines could be extended as a main is to be carried to the ornamental iron works and to go to the proposed annexed area would require about 700 feet more of mains. The cost would be approximately $3,500. This is considered a good investment by the board as the proposed tract would bring in two stores from which the village might reasonably expect $1,200 a year in sales tax and plus the payments by the residents for sewer service, exclusive of possible build up of the area. The sewer service would run $4.50 a month per household.

Want To Clean Your Street? Here's A Chance

Residents along a section of Oak street which is mud covered as a result of work on the Frankfort sewer system plan on a cleaning party—quite likely this week. They plan to scrape the worst off with tractor-powered blades and wash the remainder away.

The village has an old piece of hose which can be used for the washing. The board stipulated, however, that a fireman or some employee of the water department supervise the turning and shutting off of the hydrants. All the facilities, water and hose, will be available to any group that would like to engage in street cleaning, the trustees said.

Drop Suit To Force Easement For Sewer Line

Mayor George Sangmeister reported to the Frankfort village board this week that Attorney Albert H. Krusemark had informed him the condemnation proceedings planned to force an easement for a sewer line over the property of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Lath, Ash street, has been dropped.

The circuit court will not be in session until next month and the proceedings probably would drag out too long to be of value to the village.

The plan had been to run the sewer behind the Lath property to better serve the area. At its meeting this week the board voted a change order so the sewer will now run along Oak street from Pacific.

The board allowed D'Andrea Construction Co. $26,401 for sewer work completed since the last allowance, $18,527 to Gaskill and Walton for work on the treatment plant. The engineer received $1,667.

Would Sell Schools By Piece, Lot

Bids for the old school buildings and equipment in Green Garden and Wilton townships were so low that the Peotone unit district board of education has recommended to the Will county board of school trustees that they be rejected.

The law concerning the public auction of school property has been complied with, County Supt. Verne E. Cracker pointed out, so now the Peotone unit board can go ahead and negotiate the sale of the items.

There are two oil-fired furnaces, two electric hotwater tanks to be sold as well as four one-room buildings. Three of the buildings are in Green Garden, and the other in Wilton township. The items will be sold separately or together.

At the public sale held last Saturday (Aug. 13) the total bid for the Green Garden buildings and the furnace and hotwater tank there was $256 while the bid for the building, furnace and hotwater heater at Wilton was $122.

Each of the townships now has a new school, three classrooms plus a multi-purpose room and space for utilities. The new schools are on the same sites as the old. That is the reason the board wants to get rid of the old buildings as soon as possible. They would like to have the buildings moved away, either as units or lumber, by early September.

Cuba--An Outlaw Nation

The United States showed great patience for many months in dealing with the Castro regime in Cuba. The hope was that moderation would replace the excesses. But, that hope has been destroyed by events. There is no doubt that the vast majority of the American people approved the action of the President, under Congressional authorization, in eliminating further Cuban sugar imports for this year.

What steps can and will be taken in the future remain to be seen. But it certainly has become crystal clear that Cuba is now Communist-dominated, and that the government is following ruthless policies that have their precedent in Moscow and Peking.

Seizure of two American and one Canadian-owned oil refineries--Esso, Texaco, and Shell--is ample proof of that. Any government has, of course, the right to expropriate property. But that right is qualified by the obligation to pay a fair price for what it takes. The Cuban government has paid nothing for these properties, which are worth a total of some $100 million and there are no signs that it intends to pay anything.

Cuba thus becomes an outlaw among nations. The United States must take all reasonable measures to protect its rights and the rights of American citizens.

Castro's illness has changed nothing except, possibly for the worse--other high Cuban officials seem even more ruthless and even more determined to follow a pro-Russian, anti-American policy. And liberty, for the time being at least, is dead in Cuba.

On Second Thot

By GLENN F. LOGAN

A piece appeared in the public prints last week dealing with the idiosyncrasy of a coalfield cow who spends her waking moments atop a slag hill alongside an old mine shaft near Braidwood.

There were no quotes in the piece from any of the head-shrinkers so theories are lacking as to what impells this behavior. Whether Sustie--that is the name given the cow by the author--has an exhibitionist complex like flagpole sitters or is waiting for some sculptor to come along and be inspired to do "A Cow On A Hill"

It may be that she has her mind set on a shot at the moon like the famous cow of the nursery rhyme and figures that to start her jump from the top of a hill would give just the edge needed for success.

Persons living in the vicinity are inclined to discount this theory however, pointing out that Sustie has been a fixture on the hill top for the past 14 years and that surely if she thought of jumping over the moon she would have had some rehearsals that would have required to remainder of the cast and all the neighbors are willing to take oath no cat, with or without a fiddle, has been seen on the hill.

Your correspondent has passed along that way from time to time in the past 14 years but doesn't recall having noticed Sustie perched on top of a slag heap. This is not to be regarded as any inference that Sustie may not have been at her post all the time as stated in the feature article. It is quite possible that this writer saw her but paid no attention.

After all, a cow on a hilltop did not fall into the category of natural wonders as far as this department was concerned. Many of the trips that led thru Braidwood were taken enroute the Arkansas and Missouri Ozarks or returning from same and let me say that cows on hilltops are not listed as unusual sights there. If you see someone stopping in the hill country to look at a cow it is probably because the cow is standing on a piece of flat ground.

Ozark cows -- those born and raised in the hills--are almost as nimble as goats and one becomes so accustomed to see them grazing on hillsides rising almost straight up that in a short time one doesn't notice them.

There are times, however, when circumstances change one's attitude, a neighbor pointed out. He had dropped in to borrow a tractor and was now visiting.

"I was a mite startled the other day," he said, "when I was deep in the hills south of Fayetteville. Heard there was some shoats down there a fellow could pick up cheap."

"Well, there I was driving along when I saw this cow -- a Red Poll she was -- standing up on top of a hill.

"I've seen a heap of cows on a heap of hills but there was something peculiar about this one so I stopped." He rubbed his chin reflectively. "I stopped because she hollered at me.

"Hello---ooo, there" she said "Kinda startled me," he went on, "yes sir, it kinda startled me. Some folks might not have paid any attention but I wasn't ever around any talkin' cows before. One hears now and then about talkin' dogs, singin' mice and the like and there are lots of people who'll tell you they have heard parakeets talk so it is reasonable that a cow should have the gift of speech, tho I admit it kinda made me wonder for a second or two if I had just imagined it.

"Then the cow called again. This time she invited me to come up and visit. So I got out of the car and went up the hill to where the cow was and sat down. She said her name was Louise, that she was seven years old and enjoyed people except those with cold hands.

"As for talking she attributed her ability to do this because she was the seventh daughter of a seventh daughter of a seventh daughter.

"When she found out I was looking for some shoats she said the man who owned them lived on the next farm and advised me to offer the man a third less than his asking price and I would get them.

"She said she liked the hills but that at times they presented problems.

"I hear," she said, "that they've never had a circus at Eureka Springs because there isn't a piece of flat ground over there big enough for them to pitch a tent.

"I can believe that because right here on our place we don't have enough level ground to milk on. You can see the results if you look at me. My legs on the starboard side have gotten longer thru bracing myself so I don't roll down a hill when I'm being milked and the spiggots on that side of my udder are longer than on the port side because the person milking me has to hang onto something to keep from rolling too. There's not much market here for milkshakes, you know."

One of the leading Mutual Fund research organizations recently listed various new industrial developments.

The last nonsynthetic bastion of men's clothing - shoe leather - may succumb to scientific progress. International Shoe states it is experimenting with a new du Pont product that closely approximates the look and feel of grained leather.

The U. S. Navy is now testing an under-sea fuel storing tank of flexible rubber. Test tank is anchored in Gulf of Mexico - 52 feet down. The Navy envisions tanks storing about 25,000 barrels each and located at strategic points as reserve fuel bases for the fleet.

Dow Chemical developed a foamed polystyrene plastic for use by builders. Using this material as a mold, builders can form elaborate contours for this shell roofs, etc. Wooden forms which can be expensive, would be largely eliminated.

Air Reduction has developed a new type work glove with aluminum-impregnated asbestos backs and thumbs designed to reflect about 90 per cent of radiant heat in high temperature work.

Re-entry of space vehicles into earth's atmosphere may call for parachutes capable of withstanding thousands of degrees of friction heat. United States Steel has revealed a stainless steel cloth woven from stainless steel wire about one-fifth the thickness of human hair.

Friden, Inc., an office machine manufacturer, now offers a table-top mail inserter designed to handle a wide variety of envelope sized in one operation. It will stuff an envelope less than three and a quarter inches square.

Westinghouse Electric has advanced along path of struggle to convert heat directly into electricity. A dual-generator, linking in tandem the principles of "thermo-electric" and "thermoionic" generators. The 10--inch pilot model produces only a watt of power, but commercial application may come by 1965 and it may be used in satellites before that.

Corning Glass has developed glass pillows and balls which can be stuffed into aircraft wings and other spaces where light, strong "filler" is needed. Also may be used as anti-linter in washing machines.

Sylvania Electric (subsidiary of General Telephone) is offering a "fundamentally different" transformer, 2 to 30 per cent smaller and lighter than others. Reputedly, it would be competitive with 40 per cent of the very large transformer business.

Parke-David has started marketing its "Proven", a red polymethine dye stated to be so effective a single dose will rid a

My neighbor said he visited with Louise for half an hour and she gave him quite a rundown on the people in the locality and he had enough information to turn out gossip columns for a month but he figured he wouldn't be alive to write the second one. Then he went and got the pigs at the price Louise said he would and came on home.

He told me how to get there and the next day I followed the directions and sure enough on top of a hill I saw a Red Poll cow.

There was no big hello, tho. Not even a little one. So I got out and scrambled up the hill. Louise--I was sure it was Louise--stopped chewing her cud to watch my ascent.

"Are you Louise?" I asked after recovering my breath.

Whether it was my question or some flies settling on her neck I don't know but she did bob her head up and down.

"I have a neighbor who told me about you," I went on, "and how he spent half an hour in your company chatting about the crops the weather and neighborhood doings. But I want to know for myself--are you Louise the talking cow--can you really talk?"

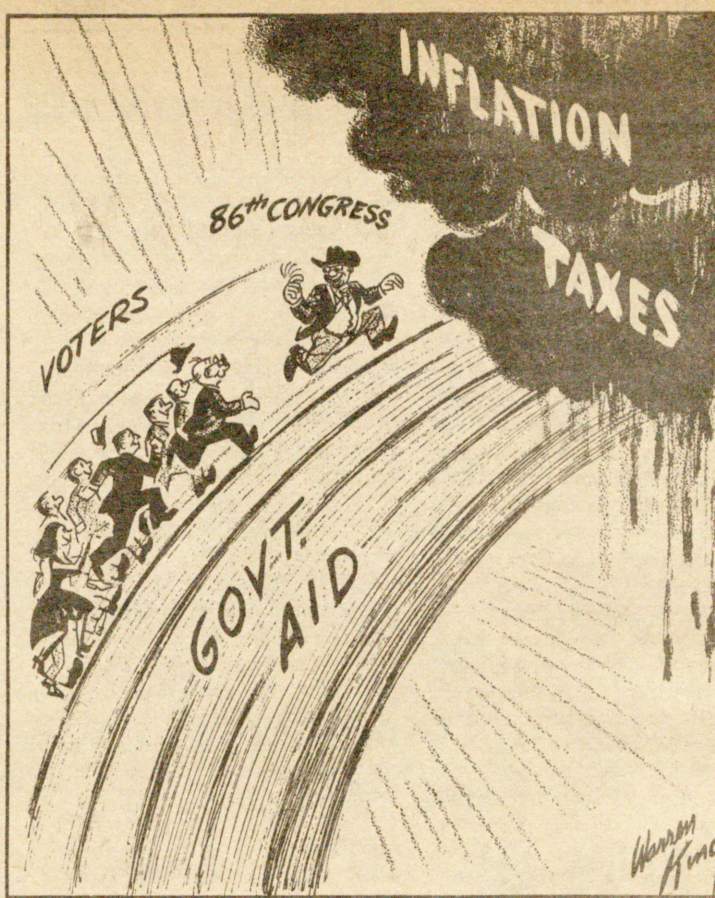

Louise exhaled sharply thru her nostrils and it seemed to my ear that the sound had a faint but distinct resemblance to that associated with the term "raspberry."

Her jaws moved as she renewed work on her cud. One eye closed and opened in a perfect wink and then she turned and moved off. She wasn't talking!

Hints For Homeowners

James Fizzell, Assistant Farm Advisor

Late summer is one of the best times to renovate old lawns. If the job is started in August, and the lawn seeded by September, the fall growth plus the growth next spring will produce a turf thick enough to keep out crab-grass, and make it difficult for weeds to get started.

Probably the most important step in renovating a lawn is the removal of all weeds. If there are few weeds in the lawn, or if the lawn is quite small, the weeds can be pulled. For large or very weedy lawns, the chemical weed killers are almost a necessity. Broad-leaved weeds such as dandelions, plantain, or chickweed can be killed with 2, 4-D, 2, 4, 5-T or combinations of the two. Be sure to use these materials with care, as they will seriously injure or even kill broadleaved flowers, shrubs or vegetables. It is best to apply weed killers at a time when there is no wind so that there is no chance for the fumes to drift to desirable plants. The new dry forms of these materials now on the market considerably lessen the danger of damage.

Crabgrass can be killed with disodium methyl arsenate, potassium cyanate, or certain other compounds especially formulated for this purpose. Several treatments may be necessary.

Undesirable perennial grasses such as the tall fescues can be spot treated with grass killers such as Dowpon; however, unless the entire lawn is to be killed, Dowpon must be used with care as it kills desirable as well as weedy grasses.

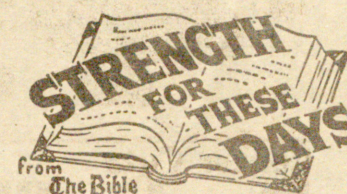

After the weeds have been killed, the lawn should be raked thoroughly to loosen the upper crust of soil and tear up the mat of dried grass. Low places in the lawn should be filled in with fine topsoil.

Ten days to two weeks after the last weed killer treatment, the lawn can be fertilized, and grub proofing materials applied. Fertilizer of 10-10-10, 10-8-6, or similar analysis should be applied at the rate of ten pounds per 1000 square feet of lawn. Lead arsenate, ten pounds per 1000 square feet, or chlordane, one-quarter pound for the same area will control earthworms and grubs. Chlordane also controls ants, chiggers and webworms.

Seed with a grass suited to the location. In northern Illinois, Kentucky bluegrass or its variety merion blue is probably the best adapted grass for lawns. If the lawn is quite shady, it may be necessary to sow a mixture containing 25 per cent fine leaved fescue and 75 per cent bluegrass.

The seed should be sown at one-half the rate recommended for new lawns. Roll after seeding to smooth the surface and firm the seed into the soil. Water immediately after rolling, but wet only the upper inch of soil. When the soil is again dry, water once a day until two weeks after the seed has germinated. After two weeks, watering every day is no longer necessary, and more water can be applied at each watering. After the middle of October, there will probably be sufficient moisture in the soil so that watering will not be required.

The lawn should be cut when the old grass reaches a height of 2 1/2 inches regardless of the height of the new grass.

They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run and not be weary, and they shall walk and not faint. (Isaiah 40:13)

To wait upon God is to seek, through prayer and righteous living, to be one with Him in all things at all times all our days, in the sure knowledge that without His love within us, we can achieve little that is truly good and lasting.

Peach Crop In Illinois Really Good

Illinois peaches are of exceptional quality and size this year, reports Ross Kelly, University of Illinois fruit and vegetable marketing specialist.

The reasons for this top-notch crop are the ideal growing conditions and little insect damage.

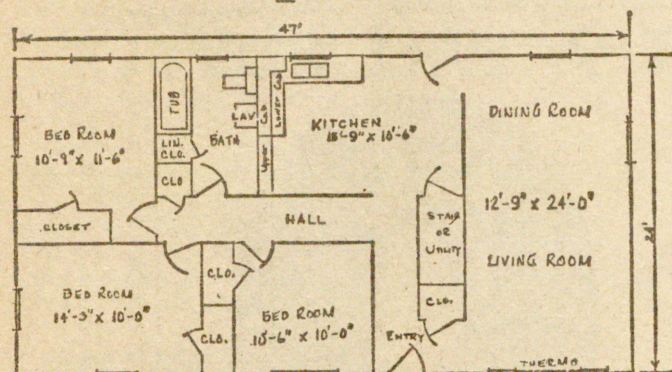

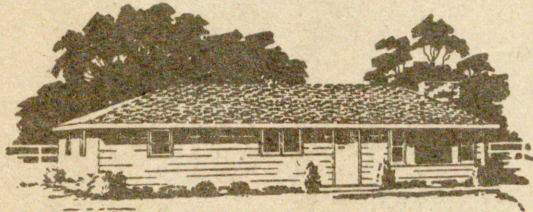

Winter damage reported earlier has not affected the quality of the crop. But it has slightly reduced the total volume. Nevertheless, the state's commercial peach volume is expected to hit 500,000 bushels.

Elberta peaches, the bulk of the state's crop, will be harvested in Union county starting about Aug. 15. J. H. Hale and Rio Oso Gem varieties will follow shortly after the Elbertas in this and other peach-growing counties.

In spite of better growing conditions and care, you may still find peaches with bruises. Small bruises may affect the looks but not the flavor. But deep bruises are wasteful.

Editor Horace Greeley, nominally a Republican, was the Democratic candidate for the presidency in 1872. He lost to Ulysses S. Grant.

Vera Swanson of Crete; two sisters Mrs. Ethel Wilcox of Tucson, Ariz., and Miss Marguerite Materson of Los Angeles, Calif.; a brother Lewis Materson of Houston, Texas; and two grandchildren.

Couple Exchange Vows At Methodist Church

For the candlelight ceremony uniting the former Miss Donna Lee Robb and Lee V. Marten in marriage, the Tinley Park Methodist church aisles were banked with candles and white bows, on Aug. 6. White satin roping was arched between each candle. On the altar were four bouquets of white gladiolus and mums. A candelabra on either side of the altar completed the setting.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Robb, 159th and 80th ave., Tinley Park. The groom who resided at 17601 - 65th ave., Tinley Park, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vern W. Marten of 693 Ludlow ave., Elgin.

The Rev. Kenneth Crandall performed the double ring ceremony. The organist, Walter Wehr, played the wedding march and accompanied John (Sonny) Fleming of the famed "Captain Stubby and the Buccaneers," as he sang, "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and was radiant in a gown of white silk organza with an empire bodice. The portrait neckline was appliqued with imported Swiss embroidery flowers studded with pearls. The front skirt was also appliqued with 75 pearl studded Swiss embroidery flowers. The dress front was carried into a full sweeping cathedral train. Her veil was a five - tier butterfly veil of silk illusion net, imported from France. Satin brocade pumps and pearl necklace and earrings completed the bridal costume.

The bride carried a crescent bouquet of white fugi mums and white roses in the center of a bouquet, surrounded with pearls.

The maid of honor, Miss Patricia Lynn Jacobs, senior bridesmaids, the Misses Shirley May Meyer and Thea-Jean Cook; the junior bridesmaids, Miss Jo'Ann Gerstenkorn, all cousins of the bride; and Miss Linda Faye Marten, sister of the groom; also the flower girl, Cathy Gerstenkorn, a cousin of the bride, all wore identical dresses of sweet orchid silk organza. The gowns were in a princess style with a shirred front panel extending from the scoop sweetheart neckline to the hem. They wore iridescent horsehair crowns, also of sweet orchid, and matching shoes.

The flowers of the bride's attendants were matching crescent bouquets of light yellow fugi mums set off by frosted concord grapes. The flower girl also dropped yellow rose petals.

Serving as best man was Richard Schmaedeke. The groomsmen were Gene Marten, brother of the groom, and Ronald Creer.

The ring bearer was Master Jack Robb, the bride's brother.

MRS. LEE V. MARTEN

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at Saenger ballroom, Tinley Park, where a buffet dinner was served from a table with a centerpiece of white snowdrift pompoms and silver wedding bells. The dinner tables were decorated with yellow roses. A garland of white snowdrift pompoms and ivy surrounded the wedding cake. An orchestra provided music.

The wedding couple spent their honeymoon at the Wagon Wheel Lodge in Rockton, Ill.

For her going-away outfit, the bride wore a lime and white flowered suit, pearl necklace and earrings, and a corsage of white snowdrift pompoms surrounded with pearls.

The young couple are now living in a new apartment at 15941 S. Laramie, Oak Forest.

The bride attended Calumet High school for two years and the Carl Sandburg High school for two years. The groom attended Orland Park High school for two years, and finished the remaining two years at Carl Sandburg.

Prenuptial parties which were held for the bride were given by an aunt, Mrs. Henry Jacobs and Mrs. Gladys Gerstenkorn, attended by some 70 friends and relatives; also a personal shower by the bride's cousin, Miss Patricia Lynn Jacobs and a friend, Mrs. Shirley May Meyer, attended by friends. A small party was also given by the co-workers where she is employed.

The bride's gown and those of her bridesmaids, also the dress her mother wore, were created by a friend, Mrs. Ethel Ludwig of Evergreen Park.

Woman's Club Has Farewell
Party For Betty Eichelberg

To honor one of their members who is moving to California, the Tinley Park Woman's club entertained at a luncheon last week at Surma's restaurant. There were 21 members present.

The honored guest, Mrs. Walter Eichelberg, was showered with handkerchiefs, attractively wrapped, and bearing messages of good wishes from her friends.

Betty and Walter Eichelberg came to Tinley Park in 1933. The following year they purchased a home at 17750 S. Oak Park ave., where they have lived since. The home was recently sold and the couple will leave Aug. 22.

For a few weeks they plan to live with their daughter and family in Park Forest, before starting their trek in a new station wagon, for their destination, Costamesa, Calif., near Anaheim, where they will make their home. They will be located near their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baldwin, former Tinley Park residents.

Mr. Eichelberg has always been in the field of public auditing and since 1944 has been employed with Tillman L. Lusk and Company, certified public accountants.

Lauding the tireless efforts of Mrs. Eichelberg and her willingness to head any project, organize workers, and achieve results, was Mrs. William McLain, president of the Tinley Park Woman's club.

Mrs. Eichelberg has served on state and national boards of the Federation of Women's clubs. Mrs. Herbert Breit, a past president of the Calumet City Woman's club, who attended the luncheon, praised the honored guest for her service to the organization.

The extent to which Mrs. Eichelberg performed a vast amount of volunteer civic work is revealed by an expression from Mrs. Alma Young, formerly on the staff of the Tinley Park State hospital as volunteer services supervisor.

A tireless worker, she has served 800 hours as a volunteer at the local hospital, and Mrs. Young remarked her cheerfulness and willingness to help where needed, will make her missed by both patients and workers at the hospital.

In appreciation of her volunteer services, a surprise party was held for her at the hospital last Thursday, in which staff members and patients participated.

Mrs. Eichelberg is also nationally accredited flower show judge.

At present she is treasurer of the Tinley Park Community library, a project which has been close to her heart since the library was first formed by members of the Woman's club. For many years she was also active in the Parent-Teacher Association.

Her ability to participate in varied civic activities she credits to her understanding husband, who also has served the community, first in the civic club, and later on the Recreation Commission, in which both were active.

Mrs. Eichelberg was a valuable assistant to the late William Semmler, publisher of the Tinley Park Times, when he wrote the history of Tinley Park in 1945, on the occasion of the village's 100th anniversary. Without her collaboration in gathering data, a time-consuming task, it would have been impossible to have written and published the history of the town in the time allotted, said Mrs. Semmler, who was also present at the luncheon.

Because the Eichelbergs plan to live a sort of gypsy life, Mrs. McLain read a poem "Come Back Gypsy".
